

Alrún Nordic Jewelry creates unusual bindrune jewelry rooted in a tradition of Nordic art more than a thousand years old.

Bindrunes were used to cast magic spells, conceal secrets, and to create powerful personal amulets. They were also a method of relaying messages. The ancient Norse believed that a bindrune could intensify the meaning of a personal message and invoke its power in their lives.

Our original symbols are based on twelve inspirational Icelandic words that express the dreams, aspirations and multifaceted character of our clients.

YOUR INTELLECT, YOUR SPIRIT, YOUR STRENGTH.

AVAILABLE NOW AT WOLF & BADGER NOTTING HILL, LONDON • WWW.ALRUN.IS • INFO@ALRUN.IS

FOR DETAILS OF CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING PLEASE TELEPHONE 020 3728 6260 OR VISIT WWW.HEARSTMAGAZINESDIRECT.CO.UK

OKHTEIN

Egyptian design duo siblings Aya and Mounaz Abdelraouf launched their brand Okhtein - meaning, "sisters" in Arabic - because of their vision to bring true luxury and timeless design back to their home country as well as drawing international attention to the inherent refinement of Egyptian artisanship.

Okhtein seeks to set new trends - with their high-end yet affordable handbags and accessories - as well as promoting Egyptian artistry and presenting contemporary designs to the world. The actor Emma Watson has been spotted wearing their Palmette bag.

THEIR RANGE IS STOCKED IN WOLF AND BADGER IN MAYFAIR AND NOTTING HILL, LONDON AND IS AVAILABLE AT

WWW.OKHTEIN.COM